FOOTPRINTS 1985

The Senior Class of 1985 dedicates this yearbook to

S. Anne Behre

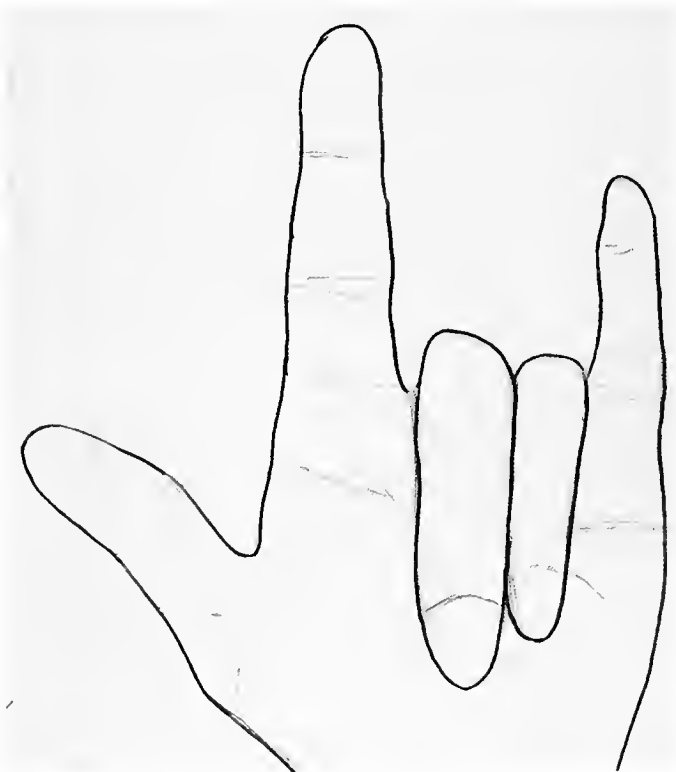

It seems appropriate to dedicate our yearbook to a member of the faculty whom we consider to be a member of our class.

We began together learning about registration, ice-breakers, credit requirements, and the Swamp. We danced together at the Awards dinner, laughed at the plays, and dressed up at the Great Bridge Event.

Your smile, warmth, silly jokes, guidance, and willingness to listen eased our transition from freshmen to seniors.

Thank you for showing us what a truly good teacher is.

Thank you for sharing with us.

I often think that people we have loved and who have loved us, not only make us more human, but . . .

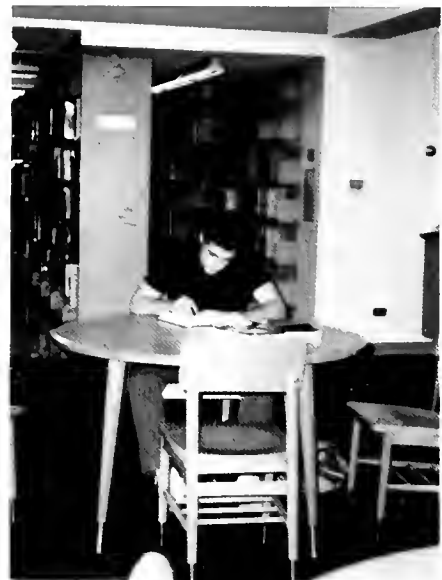

they become a part of us and we carry them around all the time – whether we see them or not . . . And in some ways are a sum total of those who have loved us and those we have given ourselves to.

The CLASS OF 1985 will be sorely missed by SJC's Public Relations and Development Office. Their many creative activities provided abundant sources of material for press releases and photo journalism.

We now look forward to welcoming them to the ranks of our Alumni — one noteworthy group joining another.

Dear Graduating Seniors,

Your Graduation ceremony symbolizes a major accomplishment. For 4 years you have invested yourselves into the preparation to meet life's challenges and opportunities — and to be equal to them.

The pride and confidence you experience over this achievement will serve you in the future in limitless ways.

We share with you in this proud moment and hope that in some way we have, through our service, contributed to your continued success in the future.

Thank you for your support during the past 4 years. With best wishes we remain.

To: The Queen of Our Hearts:

We have always been proud of you because of the way you are. And every time you came rushing home from school with your immaculate report cards you made us proud.

But through the years, watching you doing your homework, many times until very late at night with so much dedication and enthusiasm was overwhelmingly satisfying.

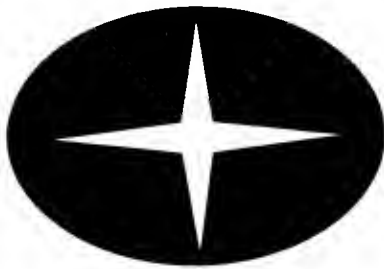

And if we contributed to your success in any small way, we are proud of that too, but all the credit really belongs to you. And today on the occasion of your graduation all that pride is shining on you. We congratulate you, we thank you, and we love you dearly and want nothing but the best for you.

CAROUSEL
by Dominic Orlando

Last night
I took my yearbook off the shelf.
I was looking for a picture of you,
but my eyes rested
on one of myself.
So much has changed,
yet nothing's new.

I recall days my voice
filled with song
and nights spent racing with the moon.
Amongst ourselves, we say:
"It took so long!"
Alone, we think:
"It came too soon."

Perhaps we haven't grown at all but, instead are born again.
Children, playing dress-up
in adult clothes,
not at all men and women.

This overcoat is overlarge.
The sleeves, too big, hang to the ground.
The legs, in ripples, gather there.
Now my money sings,
but makes no sound.
How do you walk in those high heels
with any semblance of grace?
And hang the moon upon your ears,
with silver talons paint your face?

We played in carnivals, these years gone by where mirrors changed us:
Up and Down, End to End.
On carousels heard painted horses speak
then, laughing sadly came back home again.

Now we've jumped on life's carousel where horses' secrets are not told.
Round and round and round
we go!
To grab the brass,
and pray for gold.
